Magazine says Nashville Bank & Trust's 13% growth defies trend

In a year in which the U.S. trust industry saw an average revenue loss of four percent, Nashville Bank & Trust reported 13 percent growth, according to Trust Performance Report 2009, an independent publication that annually ranks the top 1,500 trust institutions across the country.

The four percent loss is a weighted average calculated to compensate for the over-representation of very large institutions, according to Trust Performance Report of Chicago. Thus, it more accurately reflects the performance of institutions like Nashville Bank & Trust.
